STUMP SPEECHES ARE NOT PLANNED BY MR. ROOSEVELT

Says He Has Made Only
Three Dates and They
Not Political.

Iowa Standpat Governor Secures Re-Nomination.

RESULTS OF CLOSE PRIMARY.

London, June 9.—There will be no speech by Roosevelt to open the next congressional campaign, as planned by men in control of the League of Republican clubs. The convention of that organization in New York next month will have to get along without him. The story that he has planned a speaking tour is not founded on fact. Roosevelt today authorized the United Press to deny the report that he has accepted an invitation to address the league. His friends say the stories are circulated for political effect. They declare the alleged engagements were circulated to make it appear that Roosevelt intends to add in a factional fight. He has three positive engagements of a non-political nature.

His only positive engagements are to attend the dinner arranged by Robert Collier, of New York, his address to the rough riders and to the convalescent congress and his speech on John Brown day.

THE BRIDGE.

Minneapolis, June 9.—Special.
Hartington bridge to be located at Minneapolis. All interests satisfied with length of span.

L. O. T. M. Visitors.

Loyal Order, No. 4, Ladies of the Maccabees, met in regular session Tuesday afternoon with a large attendance. The ladies were surprised with visitors, Mrs. Ida Francis McCubbin and Mrs. Robert M. Smith, of Kansas City, Mo. After business they had an interesting talk from Mrs. McCubbin and Smith and an address of welcome from Lady Commander Mrs. Farrington.

Printing Committee Lacks Quorum.

Because of the failure of a quorum to appear last night, the meeting of the printing committee of the general council was postponed indefinitely. A meeting probably will be held this week, as the matter of printing the revised city ordinances and compiling them in book form is important.

COMMERCE BOARD HAS GREAT TASK

PREPARING TO INVESTIGATE IN-CREASES IN RAILROAD
FREIGHT RATES.

Washington, June 9.—Members of the interstate commerce commission today prepared for a long struggle with the proposed rate increases. As soon as the railroad bill is law, the commission will start the machinery to determine the reasonableness of the suggested increase. Congress is struggling with the law, but the stupendous task will be the work of the commission. On the passage of the law special agents will be sent to the headquarters of the roads. They have the power to enforce demands for any information at the disposal of the railroad. Their conclusions will be laid before the commission as a basis for the investigation. Later the roads will be called on to appear before the commission to justify the increases.

Colley Houser.

Colley, the two and one-half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Houser, 1011 South Fourth street, died at 11 o'clock last night of diphtheria. The funeral cortege left the residence at 3 o'clock this afternoon and the funeral took place at the Good Hope Avenue Christian church, the pastor, the Rev. Phillips, officiating. Burial will be in Oak Grove cemetery.

Guggenheims Bogey of Mexico, and Effort Will be Made to Show That Diaz Has Sympathy of Wall Street

Attention of Congress Called to Relations of Copper,
Sugar and Rubber Interests to Government.

Washington, June 9.—Charges that Diaz, president of Mexico, is able to use officers of the United States as tools in the prosecution of his political enemies, will be made tomorrow before the house committee on rules, which is considering the resolution of Wilson, of Pennsylvania, to create a joint investigation committee. John Kenneth Turner, author of "Barbarous Mexico," and L. Gutierrez Delana, his co-worker, will produce documentary evidence which they believe will substantiate the charges. It is expected to be shown that Wall Street interests, owning concessions in Mexico worth $300,000,000, given them by Diaz, forced American officers to prosecute mercilessly Mexicans in the United States opposing Diaz. Turned debtors financial interests are heavily indebted to Diaz, and paid their obligations by bringing pressure on the federal government to accomplish Diaz's wishes.

Following the statements upon which the allegations will be based, that the Guggenheims control the copper output of Mexico, they own practically all the mines and smelters; the Continental Rubber company controls the rubber lands of Mexico; the Southern Pacific and Harriman both control two-thirds of the railway lines of Mexico; the sugar trust has a monopoly of the sugar business in Mexico; the Wells-Fargo Express company has a monopoly of express in Mexico.

Turner declares the Mexican government employees detective agency close to his fingers.

"The feeling is growing throughout Mexico against the action of the government in practically forcing Harrington to control the people as candidates for vice-president. Diaz's statements that Mexico will have a chance to vote guided the agitation for a time, but it was accused when Senator Madero addressing a crowd at Saltillo, was forcibly stopped. Two hundred were arrested and a riot followed. Madero was prevented from making his speeches in many places. He is a candidate for president against Diaz.

Diaz is popular in a way but there is objection to his administration and in passing Diaz is highly unpopular. It is generally conceded that Mexico has had no election for years, but the Madero faction is demanding fair play in the coming contest.

Wire Down: Operators Killed.

Mexico City, Mex., June 9.—With telegraph wires cut and operators murdered or forced to flee, definite information is lacking as to the situation at Valladolid, Yucatan. The scene of the massacre by the Indian insurgents several days ago. The meager advices received by the government authorities today estimate the number of killed at forty.

More than 2,000 Indians are said to have been engaged in the raid upon the towns.

No Longer Denied.

El Paso, Texas, June 9.—The Mexican government no longer denies the situation at Valladolid.

Stranger Looks Like Louisville Murderer

A stranger in Ballard county, where description tallied with that of Joseph Wendling, the missing Louisville janitor, suspected of the murder of little Anna Kellner, was coaxed out of a hay loft on a farm two and one-half miles from Hazard Monday night by Dr. Robert Rivers. After the tramp had gone he was struck with the man's close resemblance to the photograph of Wendling and he notified Detectives Moore and Collins at Paducah.

THE WEATHER

The predictions and temperature for the past twenty-four hours will be found at the top of the seventh column on page four.

FNHOLY LOVE.

Chicago, June 9.—Murder and suicide, with a love motive, were revealed today by the discovery of the body of Frank Campbell a short distance from the lonely spot where Miss Lena Hansen was found last night. Both were shot in the heart. Campbell was married, but infatuated.

which was sacked by rebels. Maya Indians are desperate. He despatched General Irazo with 1,000 soldiers. Gunboats are there.

Mexicans here have received advice today, that Francisco Madero, candidate for president of Mexico, was placed under "formal" arrest yesterday by order of government officials.

The arrest of Madero is taken to mean that in opposition Diaz's resignation will be wiped out as Madero probably will be sent from the country on a "mission," as other opponents of Diaz at other times are scattered over the world on "missions."

WAREHOUSE FIRE AT MAYFIELD

CAUSES LOSS OF $12,000 TO MR.
FRANK MCCLAIN, OF THAT CITY.

Mayfield, Ky., June 9. (Special.)—Fire last night destroyed the tobacco warehouse of Frank McClain, entailing a loss of nearly $12,000. The building was not insured. The tobacco was about half covered by insurance. There were about 100,000 pounds in storage. The origin of the fire is not known. McClain does a great deal of hauling between Paducah and Mayfield and he is well known in McCracken county.

Charge Against White Boys.

Frank Sanders, colored, who lives in Arcadia, complained to Chief of Police Singery today that two young white boys accosted his 12-year-old daughter Grace, yesterday afternoon while she was alone at the house. The police have a description of the boys.

Russian Couple Wed Here.

A Russian couple were married this morning at the court house by County Judge Allen W. Barkley. The bride was Miss Annie Singery and the groom was Sol Kinnear. The couple came to Paducah from St. Louis, but have been in the United States only a short time and could not speak English distinctly.

AUTOMOBILE TAGS.

Automobile owners may procure registration certificates for automobiles at the office of Col. Gus G. Singleton, county court clerk. Next Monday the state law, requiring all owners of automobiles to have their machines registered with the secretary of state and procure tags, will become effective. The blanks have been received and the owners of the machines are calling at the office for them.

According to the story a widow's son was awakened Monday night by a noise at the barn and going to investigate, he ran upon a man. Being frightened he ran to the house and telephoned Dr. Rivers, who lives about one mile away. Dr. Rivers drove to the farm, and after a great deal of coaxing he persuaded the man to come down from the loft. Not thinking of the Louisville case, Dr. Rivers paid no particular attention to the stranger's accent. In case the stranger reappears there the detectives here will be informed.

In Bankruptcy.

William C. Chambers, a merchant of Louisville, filed a petition in bankruptcy. His assets are $140 and his liabilities $1,058.

COMMENCEMENT OF HIGH SCHOOL THIS EVENING

Exercises Will be Held in Kentucky Theater—Dr.
Claxton Orator.

Class Day Exercises Drew
Large Crowd.

RECEPTION WAS A SUCCESS.

Twenty-two graduates of the 1910 class of the high school will receive their diplomas tonight when the annual commencement exercises will be held at the Kentucky theater. The advance sale of tickets has been large, and a filled house is assured for the exercises. The sweet girl graduates with their spotless gowns of white will make an effective scene. This year as usual the school trustees will enforce the edict that no graduates may not be received by the graduates on the stage. However, the stage will be decorated with potted plants and flowers.

The honor pupils of both divisions of the class will deliver the address for the class, while the address on the evening will be delivered by Dr. P. P. Claxton, of the University of the South, of Knoxville, Tenn. The members of the faculty will be seated on the stage with the graduates, while the school trustees will occupy a box. The program is:

Musical—The Rev. E. H. Landis.

Musical—Salutatory for January division—

"Kentucky Hecate"—Miss Ellen Ritter.

Salutatory for June division—

"Duty"—Miss Mildred Garrow.

Address—"Education for the State"—Dr. P. P. Claxton, Ph. D., L. L. D.

Valedictory for June division—

"The End Comes the Work"—Miss Pauline Hank.

Valedictory for January division—

"The Best is Yet to Come"—Miss Jessie Acker.

Presentation of diplomas—N. J. Hille, president of school board.

Reediction—The Rev. G. W. Banks.

The graduates are: January division—Miss Jessie Elizabeth Acker, valedictorian; Ellen Ritter, salutatorian; May Pratt Bonds, Elizabeth Weimer, Virginia Lucille Harth, Lillian Mary Phillips, Marjorie Pledge, Katherine Stelenhauser, Mildred Pomeroy, Margaret Jean Carnegie, Alice Byrne, June division—Pauline Hank, valedictorian; Agnes Kathleen Garrow, salutatorian; Martha Ann Gope, Eloise Gope Hills, Margarette Merigold, Katherine Estelle Anderson, Nea Lee Savage, Clara Belle Stewart, Lorraine Mayes Southerland, Grace Theresa McGathery and Ruth McClesney.

The commencement of the colored school will be held tomorrow night at the Kentucky theater.

Class Day Exercises.

Larger seating capacity than the high school auditorium was needed last night to accommodate the friends of the graduating class at the class day exercises. The auditorium was packed until it was impossible to secure standing room. Before this large audience the young graduates won frequent applause for their clever class day program.

The first part of the exercises was given over to the members of the January division of the class, and an illustrated monologue, "Old Classmates of Mine," was given. Modeled after the poem of James Whitcomb Riley's "Old Sweetheart of Mine," the reader, Miss May Bonds, saw the visions of her classmates five years from commencement. By the use of the spotlight the scene was made unusually attractive. As she recalled her old classmates, they appeared on the stage as living pictures. The pictures represented were: Miss Ellen Ritter, "A Little School Girl"; Miss Jessie Acker, "An Athletic Girl"; Miss Elizabeth Weimer, "The Prince's Daughter"; Miss Alice Byrne, "Professor of Latin"; Miss Marjorie Pledge, "The Winter Girl"; Miss Mildred Pomeroy, "The Summer Girl"; Miss Lillian Phillips, "The Riding Girl"; Miss Margarette Carnegie, "The Debutante"; Miss Lucille Harth, "The Merry Widow"; Miss Kate Stelenhauser, "The Tourist."

It proved a novel entertainment for class day. Miss Adah L. Brazel-

PRIZE OFFERED TOBACCO GROWERS

FINE INCENTIVE TO INTEREST
FARMERS IN MCCRACKEN
COUNTY FAIR.

As an inducement to farmers of Western Kentucky eight local agencies have offered cash prizes for the best specimens of tobacco grown in the Black Patch. All types of tobacco are included, and the prizes will be $50 for each type, as follows: Italian, English, snuff tobacco, Austrian, French, best sample of association tobacco, Bremen and African tobacco. This should be a big encouragement to farmers, upon whom the Paducah Fair association is depending largely for the success of the displays. The firms offering the awards are: T. J. Stahl & Co., for Italian Regie; American Snuff company, John H. Hodge company, English; W. B. Kennedy, Austrian; O'Brien & Co., French; M. M. Tucker, for association; Brown & Nagle, Bremen; and R. B. Bradshaw, African.

Mr. Furath Sails.

Mr. Furath, of South Fifth street, sailed today from New York on the steamer George Washington for Europe. He will visit his sisters in Europe and visit his old home. Mr. Furath was one of the first German immigrants to settle in Paducah.

Three Will Die As Result of Fall When Scaffold Broke Yesterday At Bridge Over Cumberland River

Two of the Victims Sustained
Broken Backs and Third is Suffering From Peritonitis
Caused by Internal Injuries

Fears of the physicians were confirmed today when it was determined that three of the men who fell from the Cumberland river bridge yesterday can not recover. Macomb Livingston, of Newark, O., and Henry Heseley, of New Orleans, both have fractures of their spinal columns and are paralyzed in the lower limbs. Joe Waltrip, of Calvert City, sustained serious internal injuries and peritonitis has developed.

Although thorough examinations were made yesterday by the physicians of the staff of the Illinois Central hospital, it was impossible to determine the seriousness of their injuries until today. The spinal columns of Livingston and Heseley are fractured in the same place, about the middle of the back. Livingston is in a more serious condition, and he is not expected to survive many days, as he sustained internal injuries also. Heseley is in a serious condition, but his excellent physique may enable him to live for several weeks. Waltrip remains in a stupor, and has never regained consciousness. It was ascertained definitely this morning that he was seriously injured internally. Frank Meese, of St. Joe, Ind., escaped with the slightest injuries and will be up as soon as able to bear weight upon his ankles.

Although his spine was fractured, when he reached the city yesterday and was taken from the long-range care to be placed in the ambulance, he was calmly smoking a cigar. They bear their suffering with great fortitude.

Three Killed.

St. Louis, June 9.—Three were killed and five injured, three fatally, when an iron mountain fast mail was derailed in the outskirts of St. Louis this morning. The dead are: Walter Douglas, engineer; Robert Sheppard, fireman; Jasper Laster, mail clerk.

The cause of the derailment is unknown.

Dr. Cook Sues Robert E. Peary.

Berlin, June 9.—According to the Lokal Anzeiger, Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the Arctic explorer, has instituted suit in the Berlin courts against Commander Robert E. Peary. The paper says that Cook seeks to recover $10,000, which he alleges to be due him in payment for bear skins and other polar products delivered to the commander.

Sunday School Class Picnic.

The Sunday school class of the Broadway Methodist church of Mrs. W. L. Young enjoyed a picnic at Wallace park today. A picnic dinner was served and the young people enjoyed the day. Mr. J. M. Miller, of the Baptist Sunday school also entertained his Sunday school pupils.

ROYAL GRAFT CAUSES

POPULAR DISCONTENT

London, June 9.—The first move of the Conservatives to make capital of Roosevelt's Guild hall address will be taken Monday, according to Sir Henry Dalziel, who will ask Foreign Secretary Grey if the government has lost confidence in Sir Gort, ex-ambassador general of Egypt. Dalziel is a Conservative in Parliament. The query is expected to force the government either to approve or disapprove Gort's administration. Conservatives insist that Roosevelt's attitudes are well taken, and wish to bring the question to an issue before the impression created by his speech is effaced.

PULLMAN ROBBER THOUGHT TO HAVE COME TO PADUCAH

Evades Officers at Cairo and Escapes Conductor at Paducah.

Gets Porter to Unlock Coach
Door.

FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS.

The robber who touched William A. Miner, the Chicago millionaire, for his $50,000 roll last Thursday night while he was en route from Chicago to New York on the Twentieth Century Limited train, is believed to have been in Paducah yesterday, catching a south-bound train last night.

Detective T. J. Moore received word yesterday morning from train officials at Cairo asking him to meet the Cairo accommodation train arriving here at 7:30 a. m. A man carrying a grip and suspected of being the robber, jumped into the sleeper at Cairo before officers could nab him and it was planned to catch him here. The rear door of the Pullman was locked and the conductor took his post at the front door. When the train stopped at Eleventh street and Broadway the suspect had the porter unlock the rear door and he darted out, jumped in a cab and disappeared. Detective Moore continued his search and saw the same man standing in front of the St. Francis de Sales Catholic church yesterday afternoon. Having no authority, Mr. Moore did not approach him. Inside the man's grip were said to be $30,000 in negotiable papers.

HANGING FOR WRECKERS.

Louisiana Senate Passes Bill Providing Death Penalty.

Baton Rouge, La., June 9.—In the Louisiana assembly the senate passed the Oglesby bill, which demands capital punishment for persons convicted of wrecking or attempting to wreck a railroad train. During the last two sessions several trains carrying members of the assembly have been wrecked on their way to Baton Rouge.

Want Escaped Prisoner

Princeton, Ky., police have asked the aid of the local department in capturing Harvey McChesney, a dark copper colored negro, wanted there on a charge of murder. He is five feet, ten inches in height, weighs about 165 pounds, and wears a small mustache. He is said to be connected with the murder of young Guesse. McChesney escaped from jail at Princeton about two weeks ago.

INDIANS DEFRAUDED OF

THEIR LANDS IS CHARGE

Minneapolis, June 9.—Fraud alleged in transfers of land of the Oklahoma Indians will be investigated by the courts, as a result of the decision of the United States circuit court of appeals at St. Paul. It brings into question titles of more than 20,000 parcels of land sold by Indians. While the men got the land by tribal distribution, the government claims the tracts have been held contrary to restrictions of the apportioning act.

CITY TREASURER IS

CASTODIAN OF MONEY

Frankfort, Ky., June 9. (Special.)—The appellate court today reversed the decision of the McCracken circuit court in the suit of George W. Walters, city treasurer of Paducah, against John J. Dorian, and the Citizens Savings bank. Walters filed suit against Dorian, former city treasurer and the depository to collect them to turn over to him the sinking fund belonging to the city of Paducah. In the circuit court the petition of Walters was dismissed, and he appealed.

The court holds that neither the mayor nor the sinking fund commissioners have the right to make deposit of funds due the sinking fund or to have control or possession of the money to the credit of this fund, except such control as may be necessary to enable them to issue warrants upon it for legitimate purposes. The fund is in the legal custody of the city treasurer and he is liable on his bond for its safety.

Tobacco Market.

Louisville, June 9.—The tobacco market was strong. The offerings: Burley, 110; dark, 84; total, 194. Original inspection, 179; reviews, 15; rejections yesterday, 3.

Planters' House sold 14 burley at $13.75 to $18.75; 2 dark at $5.65 to $5.75, with 1 rejection.

Farmers' House sold 75 burley at $10.50 to $19.50, with 1 rejection.

The Central House sold 20 hogs, heads of dark at $7.00 to $11.00, with 4 rejections.

The Kentucky House sold 10 hogs, heads of burley at $10.50 to $14.25 and 6 hogs, heads of dark at $5.65 to $7.40, with 5 rejections.

The Ninth-street House sold one hog, head of dark at $5.50 to $11.75.

The Louisville House sold 6 hogs, heads of burley at $8.00 to $15.75 and 4 hogs, heads of dark at $5.10 to $8.00, with 4 rejections.

Livestock.

Louisville, June 9.—The receipts of sheep and lambs were 3,432 head, making a total of 11,583 head for the three days this week as against 4,065 for the same days last week, 18,063 for the same days last year, and 12,200 for a corresponding period two years ago. All the buyers were out bright and early this morning, wanting good lambs and the trade ruled strong and active; yesterday's high record of prices being easily maintained, the best lambs selling quickly at $9.25 to $9.40, and not near enough to fill orders; seconds sold at $6.50 to $7.00, mostly from $5 to $6.25. Fat sheep were firm at $5 down, some fancy were bringing a premium, common and medium sheep slow. The pens were well cleared early in the day and the market closed in good shape.

Hogs.

The receipts of hogs today were light, 1,398 head, for the three days this week 3,991. The market opened early and ruled active at an advance of 20c on all grades, selected hogs, 90 pounds and up, selling readily at $9.15, light pigs $8.45, roughs $8.75 down. The pens were well cleared and the market closed firm.

Cattle.

The receipts of cattle today were exceptionally light, 75 head, for the three days this week 1,402 head. The attendance of buyers was light, the demand rather small, and the market quiet with but few changes in values or conditions. Handy weight butcher cattle were in fair request and steady, while other kinds of butcher cattle were slow sale, grassy half fat 900 pounds to 1,100 pounds steers are about the slowest sale of any class and the decline during the past several weeks has been greater on that class of cattle than any others. The feeder and stocker market was quiet, some demand for the best, others neglected. Good bulls steady, common bulls and canners dull, Milch cows slow. No prime heavy cattle here, feeling steady. The pens were well cleared this evening.

Calves.

The receipts of calves today were 186 head, for the three days 372. The market ruled steady, bulk of the best 7½ to 8c, some fancy higher, medium 5½ to 7½c, common 2½ to 5½c.

St. Louis.—Cattle.—Receipts 3,700; market steady; native beef steers $8 to $10; calves in carload lots $5 to $8.75. Hogs.—Receipts 8,000; market 5c higher; pigs and lights $8 to 9.55; packers $9.55 to $9.50; butchers and best heavy $9.40 to $9.55. Sheep.—Receipts 2,200; market 10 to 15c higher; native muttons $4.25 to $5.25; lambs $7.50 to $9.50.

Ready to Appear as Witness.

Hopkinsville, Ky., June 8.—Milton Oliver, who is regarded as the most important witness against the alleged night riders, which fact is supposed to have been the reason for an attack made upon his life several months ago, was brought here last night from his home in Lyon county to be in readiness for the trials set for this term of court of several parties charged with participation in the raid on this city. Oliver was accompanied by his wife, son and daughter. The soldiers who have been guarding him since the attempted assassination are here also and will guard him during his stay here.

Missouri manufactured 27,732,260 corn cob pipes last year. These Missouri manufacturers were made in factories in Washington, Hermann, Union and a few smaller towns.

Where They Play Today and Tomorrow.

Paducah at Hopkinsville.
Vincennes at Clarksville.

Hopkinsville, Ky., June 9.—With comparative ease Hopkinsville took the first game of the series yesterday afternoon when Paducah was defeated 3 to 2. The score does not indicate how Hopkinton outplayed Paducah, although in the sixth inning two Paducah batters were forced in, tying the score. In the eighth the Night Riders scored the third run, as that proved to be the winner. Light work with the stick was the cause of Paducah's downfall as well as the five errors. Pay, a recruit, pitched for Hopkinton and did splendid work, letting the Indians down with a single blunder. Crane allowed only five hits, but bunched with errors they were sufficient to cause three runs.

In the fourth inning the locals started the run getting. Lynch singled, and took second. Weightman hit a high one to left that Angerer muffed, and Lynch trotted over the home plate. In the fifth just one more was added. Crumrine reached first, but was forced out at second when Pay bunted. Pay stole second and scored when Bader singled.

The Indians spread on the wire paint in the sixth inning, and tied up the score. Fumbling a grounder, a single by Mercer, and a spill of an infield fly, filled the sacks. Pay became uneasy under the strain and walked two men in succession, forcing Angerer and Crane to cross the rubber. Pay walked, and in the eighth saw his team mates win what he had almost lost. Brown hit a single and ran to second. Weightman lifted one over third, and the ball first baseman scored.

Hopkinsville 3 5 2
Paducah 2 1 7
Batteries—Hopkinsville, Pay and Wesley; Paducah, Crane and Overton.

Host's Pitching.

Clarksville, Tenn., June 9.—Host's great pitching, Keen's hitting overcame the errors of Clarksville today, and enabled the team to win over Vincennes in a ninth-inning clutch by a score of 1 to 3. Hoyt pitched marvelous ball, and allowed the Alces only one hit, although Clarksville's eight errors nearly threw away the game. However, in the last inning Keen rapped out his little bit of the day and scored a runner, saving the day. The Volunteers scored nine hits, and Vincennes used two pitchers.

CORRECT WAY TO CRANK YOUR AUTO.

There's a right and wrong way of cranking an automobile says Robert Shaw in the June Outlook.

"The prevalence of sprained thumbs among even licensed chauffeurs shows pretty clearly that cranking they know enough they do not always use their brains to the extent of not grasping the handle with the thumb when cranking the machine. The instant of leverage is to push on down over the compression. It is the cardinal rule of brain power to push down over the compression, for the reason that, in some you have left your spark lever forward, the spark will go off in some cylinder before the piston has passed dead center, driving the handle violently backward against your palm. The safe and rational way, when you feel the resistance of compression increasing on your upward pull but you are unable to pull over it before reaching the highest point is not to pass that point, but is beating the handle from engagement, turn back and pull upward again, when you should turn over the compression on the upstroke."

Daily Thought.

How often a man has cause to return thanks for enthusiasm of his friends! They are the little fountains that run down from the hills to refresh the mental desert of the despondent.—Henry Van Dyke.

We agree with Commander Hines that a broadside from an American gunboat would level the bluff at Bluefield.

Members of the Illinois legislature are awaiting to the fact that competitive bidding for votes nets them greater individual returns than the co-operative jackpot scheme.

The "Iowa idea" has not yet been clearly expressed, it seems.

The death of Senator Fred L. Mansfield, of Tennessee, assistant attorney general of the United States, ends a promising career of public usefulness. Mr. Mansfield was just at the age when his powers were ripest. He was considered the leader of the last Tennessee legislature, which administered so severe rebuke to the Patterson administration.

If you hitch a three-minute horse up with a ten-minute horse; you simply reduce the speed of the three-minute horse—that is, until he kicks the singletree loose and runs away. It's a poor kind of equality that reduces the efficiency of the most efficient to the level of the least efficient. No breed of animals could survive such restraint; and no nation, in the economy of nature, would be permitted to perpetuate so foolish a theory.

Theodore Roosevelt spoke on "Citizenship in a Republic" at Paris; on the "World Movement" at Berlin; on "Peace" at Copenhagen; and on "Biological Analogies in History" at Oxford, and in all of them he gave the same advice he gave to congress in his messages as president: "raise children." Roosevelt's hobby is interesting; because it is so different from the theories of Cecil Rhodes, the great Englishman, who thought marriage hampered a man. The world, of course, must have its Cecil Rhodeses; but if Cecil's parents had thought about it the same way he did, we can't help wondering what would have become of Cecil.

TAFT SETS HIS FOOT DOWN.
 President Taft has set his foot down. Not long since he said he had no pride of opinion, and any amendment congress saw fit to add to the railroad bill he had prepared, so it carried out the purpose of the original measure, would be satisfactory to him; but Tuesday he sent a special message to congress, urging a clause making the rate provision operative immediately upon the enactment of the law, in order that it might be effective to prevent railroad managers adopting their raised rates and keeping them in force, pending investigation by the interstate commerce commission. The senate passed the bill and it was proposed that the house should ratify it without delay. Then the Cannon-Aldrich element got in its ink on behalf of the "interests."

Let us pause to explain that the Cannon-Aldrich element is composed of Democrats and Republicans. Enough of this element of both parties stuck together to send the bill into conference, where it may be changed to suit the theories of those who know best how to work in the darkness of the committee chamber. Then the president issued his ultimatum: it shall be the senate bill or nothing, and the progressive wing of the majority party announced that it will keep congress in session all summer, unless the program is carried out. The senate bill, substantially as published, will be enacted; but it is unfortunate that traitors in high places must always be encountered.

Since the stand-pat candidate for governor was nominated in Iowa and indications are that the state convention will be organized against Cummins and Dolliver, we conclude it must have been a moral victory the insurgents won.

Of course, Diaz may not be the kind of man, we admire, and Madrid may be as bad as Zelaya; but how much would this government accomplish in the way of reform by espousing the cause of Estrada or that of a lot of half-breed Mayas Indians, who commit unspeakable atrocities in the prosecution of their "revolution"?

REDUCING THE TAX RATE.
 When the property valuation is completed by the commission appointed by the general council and an attempt is made to fix the quadrennial assessment next year on the basis of the commission's figures, a roar will go up from Paducah that will be heard at the Metropolis approach to the Burlington bridge; but a certain class of small property owners, are becoming nervous, who have no reason for apprehension. They have been paying the maximum rate of taxation on a fair valuation of their property, and they will not be raised to any considerable extent.

The raises are going to be felt, from all indications, by landlords of cheap tenement property and owners of property whose values have increased during the last dozen years from $100 a front foot to $500 and $1,000. Yet, they will not be hurt by the increase, if wisdom is shown in the selection of the right men for the general council; for with an increased property assessment it will be possible to effect a gradual reduction of the tax rate, without diminishing the city's revenues, and, while those, whose assessment will be materially increased will not find their taxes appreciably higher, those who are now paying the maximum on a fair valuation, will have their taxes materially reduced.

If there is one class of people, who should be favored above all others in a city, it is the thrifty cottage home owners; the men, who acquire property by strict economy and good habits. They make the town, and the absence of them, unmake the town; their presence does more to stimulate and keep active the real estate market and maintain real estate values, than any other element in a community; their character and citizenship, their charity and their family virtues are the best in every community, in which they are numerically strong. A public policy, which encourages the ownership of homes, does more for the upbuilding of a town than any other policy; and any means adopted to relieve them of the burden of taxation, without impairing the efficiency of municipal government, is desirable.

People, who own their homes in a town are permanent residents, personally interested in everything that affects the welfare of the city. Owners of business property, who shift the burden of taxation on these people are injuring themselves and their own property, by reducing this class to a minimum numerically, and compelling them to pay in taxes, what they might be spending in trade.

It is not the sportsy population, but the home owning, home making, home loving people, always able to work at their full capacity as wealth producers, who pay cash for the best market offers, that make a town substantially and permanently prosperous.

NEW RANK OF ROYALTY

Although all social functions, so far as the court is concerned, will be abandoned for a year, it is likely that many foreigners, especially Americans, will have an opportunity of meeting in one way and another members of British royalty this season. The death of King Edward has, of course, resulted in a drastic rearrangement of the scale of precedence, and this new scale will be interesting for foreigners of social standing. As officially rearranged, the scale is as follows:

His majesty the king.
 H. R. H. the Duke of Cornwall and Rothesay.
 H. R. H. Prince Albert Frederick George.
 H. R. H. Prince Henry William Frederick.
 H. R. H. Prince George Edward Alexander.
 H. R. H. Prince John Charles Francis.
 H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught.
 H. R. H. the Duke of Saxe-Coburg, Duke of Albany.
 H. R. H. Prince Johann Leopold of Saxe-Coburg.
 H. R. H. Prince Dietmar Hubertus of Saxe-Coburg.
 H. R. H. the Duke of Cumberland, followed by his sons.
 The ladies of the royal family will rank:
 H. M. the Queen.
 H. M. the Queen-Mother.
 H. R. H. Princess Victoria Alexandra.

Andra Alice Mary (daughter).
 H. R. H. the Princess Victoria (sister).

TAX CASE

Colored Chauffeur Accused of Violating Speed Ordinance on Kentucky.

The case against Joe Crabtree, a colored chauffeur, for the Dunn taxicab line, charged with running at a greater speed than 8 miles an hour, was continued in police court today until tomorrow morning in order that another witness may be secured. The warrant grew out of a collision at Third street and Kentucky avenue at 6 o'clock yesterday morning, when Crabtree's machine collided with Roy Bishop, colored, who was riding a bicycle. The wheel was wrecked and Bishop went to the police. A warrant was issued charging Crabtree with speeding.

Other cases: Breach of ordinance—Clara Bradshaw, continued until tomorrow; Breach of peace—T. Mack colored, fined $50; Jim Nelson and Henry Dixon, colored, continued till 3 o'clock this afternoon; C. E. Whitman and Laura Whitman, fined $25 each.

IN METROPOLIS

William McKinney, editor of the Daily Tribune, is visiting in St. Louis.

Miss Winifred Alsop is visiting relatives in Carbondale.

William Lambert, an old soldier and well known here, died Saturday night and was buried Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Trevillion is visiting relatives in Vienna this week.

Mrs. Curt Roby and children have gone to Texas to reside. Her husband, Curt Roby, left about a month ago.

Miss Addie Connor, of Toone, Tenn., is visiting Mrs. George Steers.

Ray Gough has gone to St. Louis to join the navy.

H. M. Kessel, of St. Louis, has purchased the jewelry store of Theodore Schottle and has taken charge of it. Mr. Schottle will leave in a few days for Texas, where he has a large farm.

J. N. Roberts, of the Roberts Hox factory, is here visiting his brother, C. C. Roberts, and attending to business in connection with his factory.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ames, of Caruthersville, are visiting friends here.

Hart McGinnon, of Cairo, is visiting his grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McGlasson.

George E. Martin, of Mound City, attended the cash drainage meeting here Tuesday.

Miss Stella Wiant, daughter of ex-Policeman William Wiant, died Monday night after a lingering illness with consumption.

Curious Law Case.

A curious law case, that of a man fighting for the ownership of his skeleton, has just been concluded at Stockholm. Twenty years ago Albert Vastrom signed a contract with the Royal Swedish Institute of Anatomy making over his body after death to the institute in return for a sum of money. Since then he has come into possession of a fortune and he was anxious to cancel his contract. The matter was brought before the courts. Not only was the case decided against him but he was even ordered to pay damages to the institute for having extracted teeth without its authorization, which was held to be, in point of law, a breach of contract.

I. C. PICNIC

LOCATION AND DATE ARE TO BE SELECTED.

Blacksmiths and Helpers Are Arranging Agreement on Wage Scale.

Already preliminary plans have been outlined for the annual picnic of the employees of the Illinois Central railroad. The committee held its first meeting yesterday afternoon for a consideration of the outing this year. Nothing definite has been reached, but in the next few weeks it is expected that the plans will be completed. As usual the convenience of the railroad company to furnish the equipment will be followed as far as possible.

It is proposed to hold the picnic August 6, which will be Saturday, and also a day when the railroad will have many extra coaches in Paducah for the excursion for the colored emancipation. Kettawa and Heath are being considered as the locations for the picnic. This year the committee will endeavor to find a suitable location without going too great a distance, which is tiresome on the packed trains. Last year the picnic was held at Carleton Springs. The members of the committee are: W. R. Davis, chairman; J. R. Butler, secretary, and E. A. Milliken, treasurer.

New Agreement.

For the purpose of arranging a new agreement with the railroad, Barney Clary, of the Blacksmiths' union, and Leonard Holmes, of the Helpers' union, left last night for Chicago. The conference will last for several days. The two officers will represent the local blacksmiths and blacksmith helpers.

W. T. Weeks, of Memphis, superintendent of southern telegraph lines, passed through the city this morning en route to Princeton.

T. M. Baughan, of the Chicago Great Western railroad, passed through Paducah this morning en route from Louisville to St. Louis.

Lloyd Holmes, traveling engineer of the Tennessee division, was in the city today on business.

The wrecker did not return yesterday as the crew was called to Nortonville to pick up some freight cars that were derailed.

Frank Deen, a car checker, was ill today at his home, 219 North Sixth street.

Josef Isenman, a hollemaker helper, has returned from Hopkinsville.

Henry Equihart, the colored brake shoe inventor, left last night for Canada, where he will make demonstrations of his patent. Recently Equihart made his third improvement on his brake shoe by improving the structure and reinforcing it. With the improvement competent railroad men say there is no excuse why it should not come into general use.

STUMP SPEECHES

of Carroll, Republican, and Porter, Democrat, for governor, seems certain. Eight progressives and three stand-patters were nominated for congress.

Following are the congressional candidates:

First District—C. A. Kennedy, stand-pat.

Second District—Charles Glick, progressive.

Third District—C. E. Pickett, progressive.

Fourth District—Gilbert N. Hadden, progressive.

Fifth District—James W. Good, progressive.

Sixth District—S. E. Kendall, progressive.

Seventh District—S. F. Prouty, progressive.

Eighth District—S. M. Towner, stand-pat. (John Darrah, progressive, claims it).

Ninth District—Walter I. Smith, stand-pat.

Tenth District—Frank P. Woods, progressive.

Eleventh District—E. H. Hubbard, progressive.

First District—B. S. Pollard.

Second District—J. A. Dearmand.

Third District—John Dennison (J. C. Murtagh claims it).

Fourth District—D. D. Murphy.

Fifth District—F. C. Linbel.

Sixth District—Daniel W. Hamilton.

Seventh District—Clint L. Price.

Eighth District—F. Q. Stuart.

Ninth District—W. I. Cleveland.

Tenth District—No candidate.

Eleventh District—No candidate.

Almost complete unofficial returns from the Seventh district give Prouty 1,100 over Hull. This reversal is decided in two years ago Hull was nominated by 40 votes.

Smith's majority in the ninth is another surprise. Prouty returns give him 2,000 over Attorney General Byers.

Announcement of the nominations of Carroll and Porter is based on returns from 200 precincts, including the larger cities, out of 2,300 in the state.

President Taft Commended.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 9.—Republicans in state convention adopted a platform today, commending Taft's administration. It makes no direct reference to La Follette's insurgency.

DEMERT PLACE

SOLD TO L. P. HOLLAND BY GEORGE THOMPSON.

Beautiful Property Near Wallace Park Will Be Improved.

A real estate deal was made today, wherein Mr. L. P. Holland purchased the Demert property in the commons from Mr. George C. Thompson. The deal was made through Mr. S. T. Ruddle. The property is situated one mile and a half from Wallace park on the Hardsville road, and is an ideal residence site. It will be improved and equipped with all modern conveniences. The purchase price was $8,000.

Many Bills Killed.

Commenting on the alleged corruption fund, the publication says: "Evenson who was in Springfield at the time and who was at all on the inside of what was going on has a very clear idea as to whence came the money that went into the jackpot and whether it went at the close of the session."

"Also it would take no Sherlock Holmes to deduce who it was that handled and divided this money although to prove it would be more difficult."

"Twelve hundred and sixty-eight bills were introduced during the forty-sixth general assembly. The house contributed 710 of this number and the senate 528."

"Two hundred and sixty bills, more or less mutilated by amendments, passed both branches of the legislature, while 1,000 were apprehended in committee, based on the floor or murdered in joint session."

"Of the 260 bills passing both branches, 10 were vetoed by the governor."

Publisher Tansy was asked as to his source of information.

"These cannot be divulged at this time," he said, "but they are reliable, or we would not have published what we have."

Probe Goes Merely On.

Springfield, Ill., June 9.—In addition to finding evidence indicating that the fund collected to kill the fish bill became a part of the general "jackpot" which was distributed among the "bathroom boys," State Attorney Burke was informed by Charles Cole, a fish dealer of Beardstown, who appeared before the grand jury this afternoon, that he and other fishermen were given to understand that it would take $2,500 to kill the bill affecting their industry.

Mr. Burke says he received confidential information also today to the effect that a meeting of fishermen in Beardstown during the session of the legislature and attended by Representative A. M. Foster, chairman of the house fish and game committee, Mr. Foster declared that he could either kill the bill or secure its passage.

Cole also gave the prosecutor the names of two prominent men whose activity in having a fund collected from the fishermen indicated to Mr. Burke a purpose to get the money for the general "jackpot."

More Witnesses Sought.

The only other witness was Cushman T. K. Condit, of the First National bank of Beardstown, who produced records and gave the prosecutor all information he could recall to the $1,275 telegraphed to his

Daily Thought.

How often a man has cause to return thanks for enthusiasms of his friends! They are the little fountains that run down from the hills to refresh the mental desert of the despondent.—Henry Van Dyke.

We agree with Commander Hines that a broadside from an American gunboat would level the bluff at Bluefield.

Members of the Illinois legislature are awakening to the fact that competitive bidding for votes nets them greater individual returns than the co-operative jackpot scheme.

The "Iowa idea" has not yet been clearly expressed, it seems.

The death of Senator Fred L. Mansfield, of Tennessee, assistant attorney general of the United States, ends a promising career of public usefulness. Mr. Mansfield was just at the age when his powers were ripest. He was considered the leader of the last Tennessee legislature, which administered so severe rebuke to the Patterson administration.

If you hitch a three-minute horse up with a ten-minute horse; you simply reduce the speed of the three-minute horse—that is, until he kicks the singletree loose and runs away. It's a poor kind of equality that reduces the efficiency of the most efficient to the level of the least efficient. No breed of animals could survive such restraint; and no nation, in the economy of nature, would be permitted to perpetuate so foolish a theory.

Theodore Roosevelt spoke on "Citizenship in a Republic" at Paris; on the "World Movement" at Berlin; on "Peace" at Copenhagen; and on "Biological Analogies in History" at Oxford, and in all of them he gave the same advice he gave to congress in his messages as president: "raise children." Roosevelt's hobby is interesting; because it is so different from the theories of Cecil Rhodes, the great Englishman, who thought marriage hampered a man. The world, of course, must have its Cecil Rhodeses; but if Cecil's parents had thought about it the same way he did, we can't help wondering what would have become of Cecil.

TAFT SETS HIS FOOT DOWN.
President Taft has set his foot down. Not long since he said he had no pride of opinion, and any amendment congress saw fit to add to the railroad bill he had prepared, so it carried out the purpose of the original measure, would be satisfactory to him; but Tuesday he sent a special message to congress, urging a clause making the rate provision operative immediately upon the enactment of the law, in order that it might be effective to prevent railroad managers adopting their raised rates and keeping them in force, pending investigation by the interstate commerce commission. The senate passed the bill and it was proposed that the house should ratify it without delay. Then the Cannon-Albright element got in its work in behalf of the "interests." It let us pause to explain that the Cannon-Albright element is composed of Democrats and Republicans.

NEW RANK OF ROYALTY

Although all social functions, so far as the court is concerned, will be abandoned for a year, it is likely that many foreigners, especially Americans, will have an opportunity of meeting in one way and another members of British royalty this season. The death of King Edward has, of course, resulted in a drastic rearrangement of the scale of precedence, and this new scale will be interesting for foreigners of social standing. As officially rearranged, the scale is as follows:

His majesty the king.
H. R. H. the Duke of Cornwall and Rothesay.
H. R. H. Prince Albert Frederick George.
H. R. H. Prince Henry William Frederick.
H. R. H. Prince George Edward Alexander.
H. R. H. Prince John Charles Francis.
H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught.
H. R. H. the Duke of Saxe-Coburg, Duke of Albany.
H. R. H. Prince Johann Leopold of Saxe-Coburg.
H. R. H. Prince Dietmar Hubertus of Saxe-Coburg.
H. R. H. the Duke of Cumberland, followed by his sons.
The Indies of the royal family will rank:
H. M. the Queen.
H. M. the Queen-Mother.
H. R. H. Princess Victoria Alex-

andra Alice Mary (daughter).
H. R. H. the Princess Victoria (sister).
H. M. the Queen of Norway.
H. R. H. the Duchess of Argyll.
H. R. H. the Princess Henry of Hohenberg.
H. R. H. the Duchess Dowager of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha.
H. R. H. the Duchess of Connaught.
H. R. H. the Duchess of Albany.
H. R. H. Princess Marie (wife of Prince Ferdinand of Habsburg).
H. R. H. the Princess Victoria Melita (wife of the Grand Duke Cyril).
H. R. H. Princess Alexandra (wife of the Hereditary Prince Ernest of Hohenlohe Langenburg).
H. R. H. Princess Beatrice (wife of Alfonso Infante of Spain).
H. R. H. the Crown Princess of Sweden.
H. R. H. Princess Patricia of Connaught.
H. R. H. Princess Alice of Albany (Princess Alexander of Teck).

Advised Plaintiff Accused of Violating Speed Ordinance on Kentucky.

The case against Joe Crabtree, a colored chauffeur, for the Dunn taxicab line, charged with running at a greater speed than 8 miles an hour, was continued in police court today until tomorrow morning in order that another witness may be secured. The warrant grew out of a collision at Third street and Kentucky avenue at 6 o'clock yesterday morning, when Crabtree's machine collided with Roy Bishop, colored, who was riding a bicycle. The wheel was wrecked and Bishop went to the police. A warrant was issued charging Crabtree with speeding.

Other cases: Breach of ordinance—Clara Bradshaw, continued until tomorrow; Breach of peace—T. Mack colored, fined $5; Jim Nelson and Henry Dixon, colored, continued till 3 o'clock this afternoon; C. E. Whitman and Laura Whitman, fined $25 each.

IN METROPOLIS

William McKinney, editor of the Daily Tribune, is visiting in St. Louis.

Miss Winifred Alsop is visiting relatives in Carbondale.

William Lambert, an old soldier and well known here, died Saturday night and was buried Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Trevillion are visiting relatives in Vienna this week.

Mrs. Curt Roby and children have gone to Texas to reside. Her husband, Curt Roby, left about a month ago.

Miss Addie Connor, of Toone, Tenn., is visiting Mrs. George Steers. Ray Gough has gone to St. Louis to join the navy.

H. M. Kessel, of St. Louis, has purchased the jewelry store of Theodore Schottle and has taken charge of it. Mr. Schottle will leave in a few days for Texas, where he has a large farm.

J. N. Roberts, of the Roberts Box factory, is here visiting his brother, C. C. Roberts, and attending to business in connection with his factory.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ames, of Carthageville, are visiting friends here.

Hart McGlasson, of Cairo, is visiting his grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McGlasson.

George E. Martin, of Mound City, attended the cash drainage meeting here Tuesday.

Miss Stella Wiant, daughter of ex-Policeman William Wiant, died Monday night after a lingering illness with consumption.

Curious Law Case.

A curious law case, that of a man fighting for the ownership of his skeleton, has just been concluded at Stockholm. Twenty years ago Albert Vystrom signed a contract with the Royal Swedish Institute of Anatomy making over his body after death to the institute in return for a sum of money. Since then he has come into possession of a fortune and he was anxious to cancel his contract. The matter was brought before the courts. Not only was the case decided against him but he was even ordered to pay damage to the institute for having extracted two teeth without its authorization, which was held to be, in point of law, a breach of contract.

MISS FANNIE LEVY

DIES AT HOME OF HER SISTER, MRS. FRIEDMAN.

Leaves Four Sisters and One Brother—Burial in New Orleans Tomorrow.

Miss Fannie Levy, formerly of New Orleans, died at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon at the residence of her sister, Mrs. Herman Friedman, 515 Jefferson street. She had been ill about three months, having been removed from Riverside hospital only a short time.

Miss Levy was born in New Orleans and came here six months ago to reside. She had many friends here. She leaves four sisters and one brother: Mrs. Friedman and Mrs. Adolph Weil, of this city; Mrs. Simon Hess and Miss Stella Levy, of New Orleans; and Mr. Maurice Levy, of New York City. The body will be taken to New Orleans at 6:15 o'clock this evening and burial will take place there tomorrow.

of Carroll, Republican, and Porter, Democrat, for governor, seems certain. Eight progressives and three stand-patters were nominated for congress.

Following are the congressional candidates:

First District—C. A. Kennedy, stand-pat.

Second District—Charles Grilk, progressive.

Third District—C. E. Mickett, progressive.

Fourth District—Gilbert N. Hangan, progressive.

Fifth District—James W. Good, progressive.

Sixth District—N. E. Kendall, progressive.

Seventh District—S. F. Prouty, progressive.

Eighth District—S. M. Townner, stand-pat. (John Darrah, progressive, also claims it).

Ninth District—Walter I. Smith, stand-pat.

Tenth District—Frank P. Woods, progressive.

Eleventh District—E. H. Hubbard, progressive.

First District—H. S. Pollard.

Second District—J. A. Dearmond.

Third District—John Denison (J. C. Murtagh claims it).

Fourth District—D. D. Murphy.

Fifth District—F. C. Hubel.

Sixth District—Daniel W. Hamilton.

Seventh District—Clint L. Price.

Eighth District—F. Q. Stunt.

Ninth District—W. I. Cleveland.

Tenth District—No candidate.

Eleventh District—No candidate.

Almost complete unofficial returns from the Seventh district give Prouty 1,100 over Hull. This reversal is decided as two years ago Hull was nominated by 40 votes.

Smith's majority in the ninth is another surprise. President returns give him 2,000 over Attorney General Hyers.

Announcement of the nominations of Carroll and Porter is based on returns from 200 precincts, including the larger cities, out of 2,300 in the state.

President Taft Commended.
Milwaukee, Wis., June 9.—(Rep.) Illinois is state convention adopted a platform today, commending Taft's administration. It makes no direct reference to La Follette's insurgency.

I. C. PICNIC

LOCATION AND DATE ARE TO BE SELECTED.

Blacksmiths and Helpers Are Arranging Agreement on Wage Scale.

Already preliminary plans have been outlined for the annual picnic of the employees of the Illinois Central railroad. The committee held its first meeting yesterday afternoon for a consideration of the outing this year. Nothing definite has been reached, but in the next few weeks it is expected that the plans will be completed. As usual the convenience of the railroad company to furnish the equipment will be followed as far as possible.

It is proposed to hold the picnic August 6, which will be Saturday, and also a day when the railroad will have many extra coaches in Paducah for the excursion for the colored emancipation. Kettawa and Heath are being considered as the locations for the picnic. This year the committee will endeavor to find a suitable location without going too great a distance, which is tiresome on the packed trains. Last year the picnic was held at Cerulean Springs. The members of the committee are: W. R. Davis, chairman; J. R. Rutter, secretary, and E. A. Milliken, treasurer.

New Agreement.

For the purpose of arranging a new agreement with the railroad, Barney Chase, of the Blacksmiths' union, and Leonard Grimes, of the Helpers' union, left last night for Chicago. The conference will last for several days. The two officers will represent the local blacksmiths and blacksmiths' helpers.

W. B. Weeks, of Memphis, superintendent of southern telegraph lines, passed through the city this morning en route to Princeton.

T. M. Hangan, of the Chicago Great Western railroad, passed through Paducah this morning en route from Louisville to St. Louis.

Lloyd Grimes, traveling engineer of the Tennessee division, was in the city today on business.

The wrecker did not return yesterday as the crew was called to Nortonville to pick up some freight cars that were derailed.

Frank Hess, a car checker, was ill today at his home, 219 North Sixth street.

Jesse Isom, a boiler-maker helper, has returned from Hopkinsville.

Henry Ughardt, the colored brake shoe inventor, left last night for Canada, where he will make demonstrations of his patent. Recently Ughardt made his third improvement on his brake shoe by improving the structure and reinforcing it. With the improvement competent railroad men say there is no expense why it should not come into general use.

News of Theatres

The Kentucky.

On account of a contract made with the superintendent of the public schools, early in the spring, vaudeville at the Kentucky theater will give way Thursday and Friday nights June 9 and 10, to the annual commencement exercises of the white and colored high schools.

As all the vaudeville performers are under contract at other cities, it was not possible to book a show for Saturday only and so a feature program of special moving pictures and songs will be given, continuously from 2:20 to 10:30 p. m. at five cents admission. Starting with the Monday matinee, the regular vaudeville programs will be resumed with a program that promises to be one of the best shows that has, as yet, been seen at the Kentucky this season. Watch The Sun for announcements.

Many Bills Killed.

Commenting on the alleged corruption fund, the publication says: "Everyone who was in Springfield at the time and who was at all on the inside of what was going on has a pretty clear idea as to whence came the money that went into the jackpot and whether it went at the close of the session.

"Also it would take no Sherlock Holmes to deduce who it was that handled and divided this money, although to prove it would be more difficult.

"Twelve hundred and sixty-eight bills were introduced during the forty-sixth general assembly. The house contributed 740 of this number and the senate 528.

"Two hundred and sixty bills more or less initiated by amendments, passed both branches of the legislature, while 1,008 were apprehended in committee, hatched on the floor or introduced in joint session.

"Of the 260 bills passing both branches, 10 were vetoed by the governor."

Publisher Tansley was asked as to his source of information.

"Those cannot be divulged at this time," he said, "but they are reliable, or we would not have published what we have."

Probe Goes Merely to the Surface.

Springfield, Ill., June 9.—In addition to finding evidence indicating that the fund collected to kill the fish bill became a part of the general "jack-pot" which was distributed among the "bathroom boys," State's Attorney Burke was informed by Charles Cole, a fish dealer of Beardstown, who appeared before the grand jury this afternoon, that he and other fishermen were given to understand that it would take $2,500 to kill the bill affecting their business.

Mr. Burke says he received definite information also today to the effect that a meeting of fishermen in Beardstown during the session of the legislature and attended by Representative A. M. Foster, chairman of the house fish and game committee, Mr. Foster declared that he could either kill the bill or secure its passage.

Cole also gave the prosecutor the names of two prominent men whose activity in having a fund collected from the fishermen indicated to Mr. Burke a purpose to get the money for the general "jack-pot."

More Witnesses Sought.

The only other witness was Cashier T. K. Condit, of the First National bank of Beardstown, who produced records and gave the prosecutor all information he could relative to the $1,275 telegraphed to him.

At Beardstown this $1,275 was placed in an envelope with $800 collected from the bankers around Beardstown and Havana. The total of $2,075 was delivered in a package, according to Mr. Burke to Frank J. Trott on May 26 the same day that the $1,275 was transmitted by wire from Peoria to Beardstown.

FEW PADUCAH FIRMS TO LOSE ON THE CHUTE.

Only a few Paducah firms will lose money by reason of the Norris & Rowe agents being sold in bankruptcy. As the clients failed to pay Paducah the bills incurred were not heavy, most of them being for advertising. The firms will be sold Saturday at Ford Hall, by order of the court. It is valued at $50,000, while there is over $70,000 in outstanding debt against the firms, and the creditors will receive about sixty cents on the dollar.

Several Arteries May Be Rejoined.

Chicago, June 9.—Dr. Victor D. Leaphase, of the Northwestern university medical school, told an audience of physicians that he had discovered a surgical secret, which may do much to save life and modify suffering. In a broad sense he said that it is a successful method of reuniting blood vessels and arteries and battling internal diseases. To prove that his claims were not merely in theory the doctor caused several dogs to be brought forth for inspection. Each was cited as an example of a peculiar operation. The livers had been removed and reunited to some of the dogs. Legs had been cut off and grafted to others. The secret, Dr. Leaphase explained, consisted in his successful reuniting of several arteries.

Horst Fuqua, colored, went to his stable at 11:30 o'clock last night to see that everything was "hustled," his 9-year-old roan mare, 16 hands high, was missing. He notified the police about 1 o'clock this morning and a lookout is being kept for the animal. Fuqua lives at 818 Eighth street.

NEWS OF COURTS

In Circuit Court.

Evidence and arguments were heard in the suits of Mrs. Georgina Tyner, of Nashville, against the Manhattan Insurance company, the Sea Insurance company and the Alliance Insurance company for insurance on the steamer Gracey Childers, which was burned at the wharf last summer. The companies are contesting the payment of the policy because of the alleged violation of the contract, especially in regard to the proper facilities for watching the steamer. Attorney Charles H. Stephens, of Cincinnati, of the law firm of Stephens, Lincoln & Stephens, is in the city representing the insurance companies.

Arguments were heard yesterday in the suit of Clarey against the Union Central Insurance company, but no decision has been announced. The suit has been in the courts for four years, and a number of knotty law questions have arisen.

Miss Kyser to Teach at Cornell.
Miss Kathryn Kyser, of Syracuse, N. Y., who was a member of the Paducah High school faculty last year, has accepted a position to teach at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., next year. She will teach at the Cornell Summer school also. Miss Kyser has a B. A. degree from Cornell. She has been teaching the past year at the Ithaca High school.

In Honor of Guests.

In honor of her house-guests, Mrs. R. M. Smith and Mrs. LaFrances McCubbin, of Kansas City, Mrs. George Katterjohn gave a very pretty card party last night. The house was a beautiful bower of roses, sweet peas, carnations and ferns, which furnished a background for the appropriately attired guests.

A pretty feature in the decorations was the artistic French baskets filled with flowers that were suspended from the grill work in the wide arch between the library and the dining-room. The table was veiled in lace over turquoise blue, in the center of which was a big bowl of white sweet peas. From the grill work in the arch between the library and reception hall, also hung pretty baskets of sweet peas, draperies of tulle and vines.

An elaborate menu was served and the delicate shades, pink and lavender were carried out in the ice, cakes and mints. There were four tables of players and cards was played. The ladies' prize, a handsome hand-painted vase, was won by Mrs. George Jacobs, and the gentlemen's prize, a Venetian glass ink stand, was won by Mr. Fred Doum. A Charming Surprise.

The anniversary of the birth of Mrs. Josephine Wurth, of Twelfth and Madison streets Wednesday, found her ill but not without an abundance of thoughtful friends. Even though Mrs. Wurth had forgotten that it was the day of her birth, her friends had it in mind and they invaded the Wurth home in the afternoon, resulting in Mrs. Wurth being the surprised hostess of a delightful party. Refreshments were served and a delightful three hours was enjoyed. Those present were: Mrs. T. L. Heeder, Mrs. Annie Calloway, Mrs. Thresa Wurth, Mrs. Emma Hart, Mrs. Mary Randolph, Mrs. Lillian Douglas, Mrs. Ella Quicksell, Mrs. Ellen Council, Mrs. Mary Gleichen, Mrs. Ellen Thompson, Mrs. Julia Holton, Mrs. Mary Andrecht, Miss Fronie Schmitt and Mrs. Josephine Wurth.

Plente Supper.

An enjoyable evening will be spent at Wallace park Saturday, when Mr. Robert Mills will entertain a number of his friends with a plente supper and a round of the amusements that the park affords.

Informal Luncheon.

The home of Mrs. J. W. Little was a very pretty scene at noon today when eight young ladies in their dainty morning frocks gathered there for the luncheon given by Mrs. Little complimentary to Miss Mabel Nichols, the popular bride of the 16th. They were received by their charming hostess in the white and gold room, which was decorated with ferns and bride roses. At the signal from the hostess the folding doors between the white

Kentucky Lady Adds Her Name to the Large List of Those Who Appreciate Cardui.

Versailles, Ky.—"I could not write," says Mrs. Ella Green, of this place, "all the different pains I had, when I first tried Cardui. I could scarcely walk. Now I am able to run the machine and do my work, and my neighbors tell me the medicine must be good, for I look so much better. Cardui has been a great help."

Cardui is a specific, pain-relieving, tonic remedy for women. You can only judge of what Cardui will do for you, by what it has done for others.

For more than 50 years, it has been found to relieve pain and distress, and to strengthen weak women. Its value has been fully demonstrated.

Over a million suffering women have successfully used it. Being composed of purely vegetable and harmless ingredients, which have a special curative and strengthening action, Cardui goes right to the seat of your trouble, and can do you nothing but good.

Cardui is the medicine you need. Your druggist sells it. Try it.

ONE WAY TO WIN ELECTION.

Lock Up Your Rival Candidates, as in Mexico.

Monterey, Mexico June 9.—There is little if any abatement in the political excitement here. Late Monday night Francisco I. Madero, the independent candidate for president of the republic, who is opposed to the re-election of Diaz as president and Carral as vice president, was arrested and taken to the city lockup and detained there. His wife, who was with him at the time of the arrest, would not leave him, and accompanied him to the police lockup. It is reported today that he has been allowed his liberty, but that the case has not been disposed of by the authorities, but that the case is pending against many other persons.

There is also a rumor on the streets that Attorney Roque Estrada has been arrested and placed in prison. What the outcome of the action of the authorities will be is a question that remains to be determined.

LONGWORTH WONT RUN FOR GOVERNOR OF OHIO.

Cincinnati, June 9.—Congressman Nicholas Longworth, son-in-law of Theodore Roosevelt, in a letter made public today to W. C. Rippey, his business agent in Cincinnati, declared he is not a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor and that he would not accept the nomination if it were tendered him by the Republican state convention at Columbus next month. In part he said:

"I prefer to remain in congress, and under no circumstances would I consent to go into the gubernatorial race. You will kindly deny to my friends that I am in the race in any way."

Search Made When a Newspaper Takes Up the Story.

Douglas, Ga., June 9.—After a search of six years by relatives, George A. Lipscomb has been found here. It is rumored that a fortune of $500,000 is awaiting him at Jackson, Miss., a legacy from an aunt.

A story in a local newspaper seven days ago, telling of the search, furnished the clue to Lipscomb's whereabouts, and a telegram from his brother in Michigan reached him.

The aunt was Mrs. Mary C. Lipscomb of Jackson, Mich.

Taft Opens Timber Lands.

Washington, June 9.—Sixty million feet of merchantable timber have been added to the Duff national forest in New Mexico and nearly a hundred thousand acres of land will be thrown open to settlement by a proclamation which President Taft signed today.

Five Miners Killed.

Dover, N. J., June 9.—Five men were killed in the Richard mine near here last night by the overturning of a car in which they were being drawn to the mouth of the mine.

The miners fell 700 feet down the shaft.

Miss Kyser to Teach at Cornell.
Miss Kathryn Kyser, of Syracuse, N. Y., who was a member of the Paducah High school faculty last year, has accepted a position to teach at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., next year. She will teach at the Cornell Summer school also. Miss Kyser has a B. A. degree from Cornell. She has been teaching the past year at the Ithaca High school.

In Honor of Guests.
In honor of her house-guests, Mrs. R. M. Smith and Mrs. LaFrances McCubbin, of Kansas City, Mrs. George Katterjohn gave a very pretty card party last night. The house was a beautiful bower of roses, sweet peas, carnations and ferns, which furnished a background for the appropriately attired guests.

A pretty feature in the decorations was the artistic French baskets filled with flowers that were suspended from the grill work in the wide arch between the library and the dining-room. The table was veiled in lace over turquoise blue, in the center of which was a big bowl of white sweet peas. From the grill work in the arch between the library and reception hall, also hung pretty baskets of sweet peas, draperies of tulle and vines.

An elaborate menu was served and the delicate shades, pink and lavender were carried out in the ice, cakes and minis. There were four tables of players and chess was played. The ladies' prize, a handsome hand-painted vase, was won by Mrs. George Jacobs, and the gentlemen's prize, a Venetian glass ink stand, was won by Mr. Fred Deant. The lone-hand prize, a beautiful hand-painted plate, was captured by Mr. George Jacobs. The guests of honor were presented with beautiful hand-painted salad bowls.

The guests were: Mrs. R. M. Smith, Mrs. LaFrances McCubbin, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Doup, Mr. and Mrs. John Rock, Mr. and Mrs. George Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harnish, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Tyler, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gardner, Mr. F. D. Dount.

There is also a rumor on the streets that Attorney Roque Estrada has been arrested and placed in prison. What the outcome of the action of the authorities will be is a question that remains to be determined.

LONGWORTH WON'T RUN FOR GOVERNOR OF OHIO.

Cincinnati, June 9.—Congressman Nicholas Longworth, son-in-law of Theodore Roosevelt, in a letter made public today to W. C. Rippey, his business agent in Cincinnati, declared he is not a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor and that he would not accept the nomination if it were tendered him by the Republican state convention at Columbus next month. In part he said:

"I prefer to remain in congress, and under no circumstances would I consent to go into the gubernatorial race. You will kindly deny to my friends that I am in the race in any way."

Search Ends When a Newspaper Takes Up the Story.

Douglas, Ga., June 9.—After a search of six years by relatives, George W. Lipscomb has been found here and informed that a fortune of $500,000 is awaiting him at Jacksonville, as a legacy from an aunt. A story in a local newspaper several days ago, telling of the search, furnished the clue to Lipscomb's whereabouts, and a telegram from his brother in Michigan reached him.

Banderine

EVERYBODY CAN HAVE BEAUTIFUL HAIR NOW, and they don't have to wait weeks and months for results either. You will notice marked improvement after the very first application.

Banderine is quickly and thoroughly absorbed by the scalp and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities. It is pleasant and easy to use—simply apply into the scalp and hair once a day until the hair begins to grow, then two or three times a week till desired results are obtained.

A lady from California writes in substance as follows: "I have been using your wonderful hair tonic for several months and at last I am pleased to say that I have a head of hair that measures over 40 inches in length. The hair is lustrous and abundant."

Another from New Jersey writes: "After using six bottles I am happy to say that I have a head of hair as long as my hair was when I was a child."

This Great Hair-Growing Remedy can now be had at all druggists in three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

TITLES OF THE ENGLISH KINGS

SOME QUANT AND CURIOUS SINGULARITIES IN HISTORY.

From Plain and Simple "King of the English" to Present Florid String of Appellations.

INTERESTING ROYAL HISTORY.

London, June 9.—It is not often that the general public, though tolerably familiar with the abbreviated versions inscribed on the coins, has the opportunity of seeing the titles appertaining to the British crown set out fully in black and white as they are revealed in the proclamation issued on Saturday at St. James' palace by the first prince consort of King George V., says the London Morning Post. It is, therefore, not an uninteresting moment to consider how, and from what beginnings, and in what order the crown, in the course of centuries, has gathered about itself those titles. Queen Victoria's title on her accession in 1837 was "Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Defender of the Faith," and the legend around, say an 1855 shilling, runs "Victoria Dei Gratia Britanniarum Rex: P. D." whereas King George is proclaimed as "King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and of the British Dominions Beyond the Seas, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India," and his coins, when struck, will bear the words, or abbreviations, "Georgius V. D. G. Britt: Omn: Rex: P. D. Ind: Imp." Two fresh titles, however, have been added since 1837—both, in fact, within the last 34 years.

Of this mass of titles the nucleus, of course, is the "King of England," or, in its original form "King of the English." Legend attributes this appellation to Robert, the famous King of Wessex, who at the opening of the ninth century practically united Britain under himself as sole ruler. Not, however, to Robert, nor even to Alfred the Great, belongs the honor of having been the first "King of the English," but to Alfred's grandson, Athelstan, a warlike and gorgeous sovereign, who subdued the Danes of Northumbria and such chieftains as still maintained an independent existence in the remoter parts of the island. Of the outlying countries, disrespectfully spoken of today in the heat of controversy as "the Celtic fringe," Wales was the first to be incorporated with England under one crown. Edward I. annexed Wales in 1284, declaring by the Statute in Wales that the country and its inhabitants had been brought in proprietary nostrate dominum. It was, as everyone knows, the birth of the linkless Edward III. in Caernarvon Castle that led to the bestowal of the famous title "Prince of Wales" upon the heirs to the English throne.

The Anglo-Saxon Kings had vague pretensions to the lordship of Ireland, which they had no power whatever to translate into a semblance of actual domination. Stubbs says that Edward apparently acted as patron of the Gaels—Danish settlers, who had colonized a strip of the eastern coast—and quotes authorities to show that coins of Edward and Canute were struck at Dublin. Henry II.'s expedition in 1171, however, was the first definite attempt to exert from the Irish chieftains recognition of the English sovereign's lordship. Prince John was made by his father lord of the island. It was intended that he should be crowned King, and the crown of gold was actually sent to him by the pope, but the coronation never took place. Had John been crowned King Ireland would have been included with England in the royal title at John's accession to the English throne. In 1199 but as it happened the idea abandoned by Henry II. was not revived until more than three centuries later, Henry VIII. assumed in 1541 the title of King of Ireland.

England and Scotland were brought under one ruler by the accession of James I. to the English throne in 1603, and early in his reign the well-known post mortem case, known as "Calvin's case," decided that Scotsmen born after his accession were English citizens, and vice versa. At the restoration the hereditary right of Charles II. to the Scottish throne was declared by the parliament at Edinburgh, and 28 years later, when James II. was expelled the Scottish crown was as a matter of course offered to William and Mary. Still, the complete union of the crowns did not take place till the passage in 1707 of the act of Union, which declared England and Scotland to be one kingdom, and Anne to be the first sovereign of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

Of the three titles of the crown, as yet unaccounted for one is of ancient and the other two of quite modern origin. The title of "Emperor of India" was conferred upon George VI. in 1921 by Pope Leo X. on the receipt of a book bound in cloth of gold, written by the zealous young king in denunciation of the heresies of Luther. The interchange of courtesies makes strange reading in the light of Henry's subsequent acts, but Edward, though a deadly enemy of the pope, remained to his last day, save when dire necessity drove him to coquet with the Lutheran princes, whom he hated, of the two remaining titles that of "Emperor of India" dates from New Year's Day, 1877, when Queen Victoria assumed the title of empress. This step was the natural consequence of the beneficent change made 19 years earlier when the crown, which had for years virtually left the hands of the subordinate but enormously powerful East India company, which had in practice as well as in theory, the title "King of the British Dominions Beyond the Seas" was, as is generally known, assumed by the king as a tribute to the important position held in the empire by the sister nations across the sea.

A point of interest, though not directly connected with the title of the crown, is raised by a sentence in the prayer book's proclamation: "We, therefore, the lords, spiritual and temporal of this realm, being here assembled with those of his late majesty's privy council." The lords, the lords, spiritual and temporal, "assisted with the privy council" is a unique and has to exist except on the occasion of a new sovereign being proclaimed. Sir William Anson, in his "Law and Custom of the Constitution," calls attention to the phrase, and mentions it as being a survival of the ancient tradition in which the Witanagemot, or "assembly of the wise," met to elect the Anglo-Saxon kings.

The Conservation of Nature's Resources.

Applies as well to our physical state as to material things. C. J. Budding, Washington D. C., realized his condition, and took warning before it was too late. He says: "I suffered severely from kidney trouble, the disease being hereditary in our family. I have taken four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy, and now consider myself thoroughly cured. This should be a warning to all not to neglect taking Foley's Kidney Remedy until it is too late."—Gilbert's Drug Store.

Brooklyn's New Botanical Garden.

A Brooklyn botanical garden is now being established by the city of Greater New York in co-operation with the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences. Between twenty-five and thirty acres of land south of the museum building of the institute in Brooklyn, and separated from Prospect Park by Flatbush avenue, have been set apart for the purposes of the garden and are now being surveyed and graded. A laboratory building for purposes of investigation and instruction, together with a range of experimental and public greenhouses, will be constructed during the coming summer and autumn. For this purpose the city of New York has appropriated $100,000.

In addition to this friends of the garden in Brooklyn have subscribed $50,000 as an endowment, the income of which is to be used for the purchase of equipment. It is intended to make the new garden not only a center of research, but also to give instruction to both elementary and advanced classes in botany, and co-operate in every feasible manner with the botanical work of the public and private schools of the borough of Brooklyn. Dr. C. Stuart Gager, professor of botany in the University of Missouri, has been appointed director of the garden and will enter on his duties the first part of July. A scientific staff will be gradually assembled as soon as the buildings are ready for occupancy. Science.

Barkley; 11:15 a. m.—Sermon, "The Supremacy of the Church," by Rev. G. W. Banks; 12 noon—Reference to departing titles to keep in corn, stone and appropriate, cornmeal, chicken, green apple pie, roast lamb baked ham, pickles, etc.; 2 p. m.—Singing in old Kentucky style by congregation, led by Professors Buchanan and Trace; 2:30 p. m.—Prayer by Rev. R. H. Paine; 3:30 p. m.—Singing and handshaking.

THOUGHT DEAD; WALKED IN.

Woman Alive On Whose Life Even Insurance Had Been Paid.

New York, June 8.—Mary McGonigle, who was supposed to have been killed by a South avenue car and buried in Graceland cemetery several weeks ago, surprised her sister, Mrs. John McGonigle, by dropping in for a sisterly visit at her home a few days ago, and Mrs. McGonigle did not recognize her. She tried to scream and lost her voice. She tried to run and found that her blood had frozen in her veins. She was petrified. "What are you?" asked the surprised sister. "I am alive," said the woman who had the words of a widow upon her.

"No, it is not that," said the shocked Mrs. McGonigle. "It is me," said Mrs. McGonigle. "You're here!" said the sister. "Here, where?" said the sister. "I am here," said the woman who had the words of a widow upon her.

Mary McGonigle went downtown for a car. The woman on the floor had a car and got on her knees. "The house is a miracle," said the shocked Mrs. McGonigle.

When the relatives and friends had finished congratulating Mrs. McGonigle on her recovery, the insurance company which had paid the policy on her life was notified of the mistake and the amount returned. The insurance company, which had paid the funeral expenses, was also notified but was unable to contact the undertaker. The policy of the woman who was buried a few days ago.

"I was a fine fellow," said Mrs. McGonigle today.

WHAT A SUMMER COLD MAY DO. A summer cold if neglected is just as apt to develop into bronchitis or pneumonia as at any other season. Do not neglect it. Take Foley's Kidney Remedy and the promptly it loosens the clogged, swollen and inflamed air passages, and expels the cold from the system. —Gilbert's Drug Store.

Abandoned Farms To Be Restored by Experts Calls For General Discussion.

Buffalo, June 9.—Possibly there is nothing more interesting to the farmer, just now, than the assertion that the abandoned farms in central and western New York are to be taken in hand by expert agriculturists and restored to their old-time fertility. They have read much recently that the president of the New York Central railroad accounts for the high prices by saying that many agriculturists have abandoned the farm and gone to the city. Still another declaration, freely made, is that farmers taking advantage of the situation are charging extortionate prices and getting unduly rich. There is another side to all this—the farmer's side, and here it is from his viewpoint presented by one of wide experience. He is willing to admit there are fewer failures among farmers than in any other class of business men. More, he is quite familiar with the farms of Erie, Niagara, Orleans, Genesee and Monroe counties. Incidentally he knows a little bit about the west and something about the cattle industry.

Profits Are Not Large.
While farming is now on a paying basis in western New York, the profit is not so great as many think. The farmers in Niagara, Orleans, Genesee and Monroe counties owe the greater share of their present prosperity to the wisdom of their fathers. The magnificent orchards are largely due to those who lived a half century ago, who found out the soils best adapted to fruit and the variety best adaptable to the climate. Yet there have been dark days for many farmers. The bonded indebtedness of the Home, Watertown and Ogdensburg railroad had to be paid, even though the court of appeals of the state decided the bonds were illegal for the case was taken to the federal courts, and the decision of the highest court of the Empire state set aside. Many farmers went to Tonawanda and worked in the lumber yards in order to save their homes and pay the debt of high finance.

Those who tell about abandoned farms in western New York are ignorant of the high standing of the Empire state in agriculture. At least one-third is not fit for cultivation. The amount of tillable land in this state is not large—but so large as in many others. Perhaps it will cause some of those who claim agriculture is in a backward state great surprise to learn that the thousands of New York are second—a good second at that—to those of California. This state is not only the greatest producer of apples, but the quality is highest. The potato crop of this state of "abandoned farms" is greater than any in the United States. In many grains it ranks first.

Few Abandoned Farms.
There are few abandoned farms anywhere in western New York. Those which are classed as abandoned are real estate investments held by heirs of the pioneers waiting for Long Drives to Market.

In Elk street market, in Buffalo, almost any day from July to December can be found men who drive 40 miles to sell their produce. Sometimes this load is sold for $100, oftener for less, say $40. It takes two days to make the trip. Usually he sells his load for at least $10 more than he could have done at home. If he makes 20 trips a year his produce will sell for about $2,000. The railroad is of but little help to the Niagara county farmer. Intelligent farm help is not plentiful, and the best farmer always gets the best help. It takes three years to make a good farm hand, or losses to his employer will result. Good farm labor is not dear at $25 a month and found. Yet if the ignorant city laborer is to be turned over to the farm he is dear at $10. The country lad soon adapts himself to city ways, but the man of the city is stupid when placed on a farm.

Farms Are Not Worn Out.
That farms in these counties have not been worn out is evident, for they are more productive than they were 20 years ago. Western New York farmers did not stop growing wheat until wheat was selling for 50 and 70 cents. Even at a dollar a bushel the farmer pays as much for flour as the city man. The miller no longer grinds his wheat, and takes toll, but buys wheat and sells flour. As to the yield of wheat, 20, 30, 40 and in rare instances 50 bushels to the acre are reported.

The fruit crop is the money maker. Yet it has not the profit that many believe. Take an orchard of 20 acres and suppose it produces 2,000 barrels—a good crop—and allow a fair price, $2 a barrel. When the $1,000 is received the farmer will prepare at his leisure a statement similar to this:

Receipts, 2,000 barrels at $2. $1,000
Disbursements:
Ploughing orchard $ 60.00
Cutting 60.00
Pruning 100.00
Spraying 30 days at $10. 300.00
Spraying material 50.00
2,000 bbls. at 35c. 700.00
2,000 bbls. picking at 15c. 300.00
2,000 bbls. packing at 10c. 200.00
2,000 bbls. hauling at 10c. 200.00

Total $1,970.00
Profit $2,000.00
In other words, a barrel of apples costs the farmer fully 30 cents. There are times when he gets more than $2 and sometimes less. At a dollar a barrel it barely pays to handle them. Then, too, the apple crop is not a certainty.

Usually the farmer calculates upon making his farm pay his expenses and depends upon his fruit for profit. Many who have done this have become wealthy. The peach crop pays about one year in three.

Fact For City Men.
If the city man is going to the country he must understand farming. If he does not, then he must learn the business or hire a superintendent. This is not always profitable. A hotel keeper in Buffalo thought it would pay him to grow his own potatoes. The crop cost him $1 a bushel and he could buy all he needed for 50 cents.

The rental shows the profit in farming better than anything else. Few farms will rent for five per cent. of their real value. Good farms in Niagara county will rent for $3.50 to $7 an acre. When this is understood it can be seen the profits in farming are not so great. More than all the colleges furnish theories, and their theories are valuable, but it is the farmer who puts them in practice, and when a theory is worthless proves it is not practical.

Many young farmers have studied with benefit in Cornell. Each township has one or two of them. Nearly every one has at least one good farm journal. If the land in any of these five counties is being "run out" the owners do not know it. They do know that they have miserable shipping facilities from railroads. What they need is the delivery of their products promptly. The man who drives 40 miles to market can often make three trips quicker than the railroad will make a single shipment for the same distance. Instances have been known where porshable fruit has been five days on the way for a distance of less than 40 miles. Why increase the yield where rapid transportation is an impossibility?

The city man will find just as much corruption in country politics as exists in his municipality. However, this has nothing to do with farm management or abandoned farms.

SCHOOLBOY "HOWLERS."

The schoolboy "howler" is always popular. The following selections from a large number which were sent in for a prize competition arranged by the university correspondent are excellent examples of the mistakes which pupils perpetrate:

Women's suffrage is the state of suffering to which they were born. The earth is an obsolete aphorism. Lord Raleigh was the first man to see the invisible Armada.

Shakespeare founded "As You Like It" on a book previously written by Sir Oliver Lodge. Tennyson wrote "In Memoriam."

JOHN H. ROE

PASSES AWAY AT HIS INDIANA HOME.

Former Insurance Man, Reaches ripe Old Age of 95 Years.

Information has reached the city of the recent death at Flora, Ind., of John H. Roe, a former well known citizen of Paducah. Mr. Roe died at the venerable age of 95 years, after a most successful life. He was a bachelor and left only an aged brother. The two were making their home together.

The elder citizens will recall the residence here for many years in the sixties and seventies of Mr. Roe, and the fact that he was for years one of the leading men of the place. He was engaged for many years in the life insurance business and his career as a policy seller and writer was a phenomenal one. He was for 25 years, at least, connected with the Equitable Life and had the reputation of being to a Paducah friend the first to place a policy that company ever placed in the states when the policy was first put into force. He also had a most unique contract with the company, as his friends know, and from a most insignificant percentage he lived to see his "annual" as they were first called, grow to a yearly small fortune. Close friends know that once in life, when he came to retire from active business, as he did in about 1905, the Equitable offered Mr. Roe a very handsome sum—something like a quarter of a million—for a quit claim, but this he declined, though the contract was only a life one. Mr. Roe left a handsome fortune in cash and property, a part of the latter being one of the largest and most valuable stock farms in Indiana. This stock farm he established years before he left the insurance business and when he came to take the last year of his life easy he repaired to it.

Remembered most favorably by older citizens the death of Mr. Roe, even at the ripe age he reached, will be mourned with regret by them.

TWO FUNCTIONS FOR ROOSEVELT

RECEPTION IN AFTERNOON AND A FAREWELL DINNER.

Were Quiet Affairs Because All Are in Mourning in London.

HIS LAST DAY IN COUNTRY

London, June 9.—Dorchester house, the residence of Whiteley Reid, American ambassador, was the scene of two functions in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt, a reception in the afternoon to the members of the Migrants and American societies, and a farewell dinner at night. Both were quiet affairs, on account of the court being in mourning, and also Mr. and Mrs. Reid in mourning for the late Ogden Mills.

Several hundred attended the dinner including the most prominent members of the American colony, Archbishop of Canterbury, Sir Edward Grey, foreign secretary, Duke of Portland, Lord Carson, of Killybegs, Right Rev. Charles Henry Brent, American Bishop of the Episcopal church in the Philippine Islands and Lord Alverstone.

At a luncheon at Colonel Arthur H. Lee's, Roosevelt met the Earl of Selborne, high commissioner of South Africa and governor of the Transvaal; and David Lloyd-George, chancellor of exchequer. Others present were Sir Horace Blount, department of agriculture in Ireland; Sir Alfred Pease and W. W. Jacobs, the writer, invited on Roosevelt's special request.

Roosevelt will spend his last day in England in the country. Hundreds of letters commenting on his Guild Hall speech are pouring in. A great majority are laudatory, but some are abusive.

A newspaper clipping reached the former president referring to the political importance attached to the dinner which Robert Collier will give to Roosevelt on his return. Roosevelt called attention to the fact that this arrangement was made when he lunched with Collier before starting for Africa, and said there is no political significance to it.

Will Sail Tomorrow.

New York, June 9.—More than 700 cabin passengers, including many notables, will embark on the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria with Roosevelt and family on June 10. Cable advice today gave the plans for Roosevelt's departure. He will walk from New Forest to Southampton station, where he will board a special train which will convey him from London. At Southampton a special tender will convey the party to the steamship anchored in Solent.

FORMER PADUCAH TEACHER PROMOTED AT NEWPORT.

Prof. W. A. Evans, formerly in charge of the science department of the High school, has been elected principal of the Newport High school, where he was elected science teacher last year. His numerous friends in Paducah are well pleased with his deserved promotion. He is a graduate of Denison university, and came to Paducah from the Hopkinsville High school. While in the city he directed the athletics of the High school, and produced winning teams.

HIGH LIVING

Washington, June 9.—"The prices of high living are not new," says Congressman E. T. Hamilton, who hails from Michigan.

"In the reign of Edward III they passed the statute of laborers, which undertook to regulate wages and prices of food.

"In the same reign they undertook to define by law what men should eat and wear.

"In the same reign they passed laws against engrossing, forestalling, regrating, and badgering, at which buying and selling at wholesale and holding for a rise was made a crime, and they were repealed in the reign of George III, because they discouraged growth and enhanced prices.

"In the reign of Edward IV they tried to define by law the length and breadth of cloth to be sold.

"In the reign of Edward VI they passed laws to punish 'vintners' who conspired to sell victuals too high, and to punish laborers who had 'confederated in respect to their work.'

"In the reign of Elizabeth they tried to fix by law 'wages according to the plenty, scarcity, or necessity in respect to the time.'

"In 1777 the Continental congress recommended that the several states appoint commissioners 'to regulate and ascertain the price of labor, manufactures, internal produce, and commodities imported from foreign parts.' * * * also to regulate the charges of innkeepers, and several of the states passed such laws and then repealed them, because, as the governor of Rhode Island declared, they resulted in an almost entire stopping of vending the necessities of life."

FIREMEN HURT

RUSSELL HUGHES CUT ARTERY IN HIS ARM.

Fire Results From Lamp Explosion at House of Kemy Tilley.

Fire resulting from the explosion of an oil lamp caused a small loss early this morning at the residence of Kemy Tilley, 1229 Tremble street. The blaze from the burning oil caught in the walls of the frame house, but the firemen arrived quickly after the alarm was received and extinguished the fire before it gained a good start. The loss is estimated at about $25.

The residence is a double tenement, and the fire started in a back room, where a lighted lamp had been left all night. The explosion was heard, and the alarm given. The No. 3 hose company reached the house in a few minutes, and with the chemical engine extinguished the blaze before it gained headway. The No. 4 truck company also answered the alarm, but the fire was out before the long run was completed. Fireman Russell Hughes cut an artery in his left wrist while fighting the fire.

COUNTY TEACHERS WILL BE ELECTED

LAST SATURDAY IN JUNE IS THE DAY SET.

School Book Commission Will Meet at the Court House Next Week.

EXAMINATIONS OF TEACHERS.

County school teachers will be elected on the last Saturday in June which is June 25. Each division board will elect all of the teachers in its division, and in case of any vacancies the teachers will be elected on the last Saturdays in July and August. The meeting places of the division board will be announced later, but will be held in each district.

Next week the county school book commission will meet for the purpose of adopting the text books that are to be used in the county schools. The commission is composed of L. W. Pezzer, county school superintendent, who is chairman of the committee, the county board of examiners, Prof. J. S. Hagsdale, principal of the county high school, and one trustee from the county school board.

The county school board will be in session next Monday, and at the meeting the trustees will select one member to act with the commission. It is probable that the commission will adopt the text books next Monday, although the date has not been set definitely.

June 17 and 18 there will be an examination for the county and state teachers certificates for white teachers. The examinations will be held at the court house, and a number of applicants are expected to take the examination.

Superintendent L. W. Pezzer is busy arranging the program for the county teachers' institute which will be held August 8-12 this year at the court house. It will be ready for publication in a short time.

River Clippings.
The John S. Hopkins was the Evansville packet today with a good freight and passenger list.
Capt. E. A. Wait with the Outaway towed a tie raft out of the Tennessee to Joppla this morning.

The Kentucky is due in this afternoon or tonight from Riverport, Ala., and goes to Metropolis and Brookport to unload. She will return tomorrow and receive freight at the wharfbait, leaving at 6 p. m. Saturday for the Tennessee.

From St. Louis the City of Savannah, which left there last evening, should arrive early tonight on her way up the Tennessee.

The Cowling made her first trip today on time and leaves at 4:30 this afternoon for Metropolis.

The Ohio was in and out on time from Cincinnati today, doing a good business.

The Dick Fowler left for Cairo at 8 a. m. and is due back about 9 o'clock tonight. She will run an excursion out of here tomorrow night for the High school graduates and friends. Those holding tickets are entitled to a ride.

The Chattanooga is due from the Tennessee today and goes to Brookport to unload.
Rainfall measured .74 of an inch last night. There was a stiff wind prevailing over the harbor for a short time, although no damage was done to any craft.

Capt. Will Edwards, the popular pilot on the Clyde, was unable to be at his post last night and Capt. Ed heard shipped in his place. Capt. Heard, who is pilot on the Shiloh, up the Tennessee, will meet the Shiloh and change places with Roy Smith, who has been filling his place. Capt. Henry Baker, at the Ayer & Lord The company's office, has received word from the Margaret that she will not reach here today from the Cumberland. She is expected out with a tow of this in the next few days.

Work of installing the machinery on the ferryboat G. W. Robertson was begun this morning by the Shelton Foundry and Machine company. A civil service examination will be held on Friday, June 21, 1910, at the office of the Lighthouse Inspector Fourteenth district, (Nashville), O., for the following named positions on the tender Golden Rod: Master, mate, pilot, engineer, assistant engineer and carpenter. For application blanks and other information write to H. W. Southgate, secretary Local Civil Service Board, Office of Lighthouse Inspector, Fourteenth district.

Work was commenced at Howard's shipyards yesterday on the two steel ferryboats for the Wiggins Ferry company of St. Louis. The two boats will be 170 feet long and 48 feet wide. They are to be duplicates of the Andrew Christy and will be equipped with compound engines and will be up to date in every respect.
The Menomahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company of Pittsburgh, is to build 20 steel barges for the handling of coal on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers. They will have water tight compartments and are expected to float with a load of coal, even if one or more of the compartments should be punctured by obstructions in the river. If the barges prove satisfactory the company will build additional ones every year until it has a full complement. The company has a contract to furnish 500 barges of coal to the St. Louis Laclede Gas company this year.

A Pittsburgh special June 6 says: "Word was received this morning of the death of William E. Stoops at the Rochester hospital. For thirty years 'Bill' Stoops as he was best known, was a mate on Ohio and Mississippi river boats. For the past five years he had lived the life of a recluse to some extent in a houseboat at the Beaver Boat club's landing."

COMMENCEMENT

ton, of the High school faculty, rehearsed the graduates for the monologue, which was written by Miss May Jones, Marjorie Flegle and Elizabeth Wesome.
The second part was a clever one act comedy "The Superior Sex," and as a class play it proved most adaptable. The thread of a plot furnished much amusement. Miss Emily Pembroke, a bride to be, is entertaining her bridal party, and some clever toasts were proposed. Suddenly consternation is caused among the guests by a noise in a closet, supposed to be caused by a burglar. After many minutes of suspense and comedy, the hero, James Pembroke, appears on the scene and armed with a gun discovers that the cause of the trouble is nothing more than a pet alligator. His bravery unites him with his sweetheart and happiness follows.

The acting of Miss Martha Cope as Julia Osborne and Miss Clara Stewart as Miss Emily Pembroke, were the features of the evening. Miss Ruth McChesney as Hannah, the maid, had a role which she carried out with especial merit. Miss Paul Lee Blank, as Cynthia Pepper, an old maid, and Miss Nina Lee Savage as a suffragette, won frequent applause for their clever impersonation of their lines. Miss Lorraine Sutherland as Henrietta Page, was clever in her part. All the guests at the entertainment did good work with their lines. They were: Miss Grace McGeathery, as Virginia Morgan; Miss Stella Anderson, as Elizabeth Earle; Miss Marguerite Merrigold, as Winifred Kent; Miss Grace Ellis, as Edith Lee; Miss Kathleen Garrow as Flora McGinnis; Prof. Hugh H. Craig, as James Pembroke, the hero, to whom the girls drank the toast as the superior sex, was clever in his lines.

The class play was rehearsed by Miss Elizabeth Graham, of the English department. It was one of the most successful plays ever presented by the High school students. The entire class day exercises were successful, although the stereopticon used in the lighting effects was damaged by a fall shortly before the drawing of the curtain. Music was furnished by Miss Adah Brazelton, Mr. T. Conney and Mr. Clark Bondurant.

The reception tendered by the student body and faculty at the Three Links building was one of the most enjoyable features of commencement week. It is probable that at all of the future commencements that the plan of each class giving a reception will be eliminated and the student body combine. The graduates and members of the faculty formed a receiving line for the several hundred visitors that called during the evening. Later dancing was enjoyed for several hours. Light refreshments were served.
